In just a few months, he could have been an Anti-war vet & anarchist. But that
He be active duty was important.
It was important for the uniform.
It was important to not put it off.
It was important to speak clearly. It
Was important to set the phone down
Just right. It was important to put the Hat on over the accelerant. It
Was important not to panic when the Match didn't immediately light. It was Important his last words be FREE
PALESTINE. It was important he die
An anarchist. It was that important.
